OUR RICHMOND NEWS BUDGET

Virginia's Capital is Enjoying a Building Boom.

LEGAL QUESTION SETTLED

Hon. T. T. Powell, of Newport News, Can Retain His Office of Senator as Well as That of Superintendent of the Schools of Newport News—Charles Blandford, a Philippine Captive, Formerly Lived at Richmond.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Richmond, Va., June 2.—While business of every character in Richmond is improving and has been doing so steadily since the beginning of spring, the quiet of summer has already settled over the city. This means that business from the standpoint of the newspaper man is dull.

Speaking of business I am assured that never before in Richmond's history, probably, have so many buildings been going up. A well known builder says that he has never before known so many houses in course of construction at one time. Every single manufacturing establishment in the city has recently enlarged or is doing so, or will do so soon, or wishes to do so, and cannot, through inability to obtain the land.

Every one is running full time, several night and day, and since the Tredgar works put on a full force a short time ago, every industrial establishment in the city is working as many men as it can work. Many firms have orders enough ahead to keep them running for months. The locomotive works could run on full time for a year filling orders now booked, and still be behind when the twelve month ended. In addition to the factories being built and recently erected and those which have been enlarged, a number of business houses are being erected. Many residences, including a number of very handsome ones, are going up, but as a matter of fact residence building has been overdone in Richmond. A boom in this is looked for next fall and winter.

Attorney General Montague has decided that a man can hold the office of Superintendent of Schools and at the same time an office to which he was elected by the people.

This question arose in the case of Mr. Robert T. Arnold, of Williamsburg, who was appointed Superintendent of Schools of that town last year, and was a few days ago elected Commonwealth's Attorney of the town and James City county. Mr. Montague was asked by the State Board of Education to decide whether Mr. Arnold could hold the two offices.

Mr. Montague decides that Mr. Arnold is a State officer, and that therefore the amendment to the code by the Legislature of 1898-99, which amendment provided that no man can fill two county and district offices at the same time, does not apply.

Several newspapers have recently stated that Hon. T. T. Powell, member of the House of Delegates from Newport News, was not entitled to his seat, he being Superintendent of Schools of his town. The Attorney General's opinion would seem to make it clear that Mr. Powell can hold both positions though both are State offices, only one is elective.

First Assistant Engineer Charles Blandford, of the hospital ship Relief, who, in company with a shipmate, was captured off the coast near Manila a few days ago, was a resident of this city, being employed at the locomotive works prior to entering the navy. He is a single man and resided in Barton Heights.

Engineer Blandford and his companion were in a sail boat, cruising near Manila, when they became becalmed, and while they were in this state, two canoe loads of natives came out and gobbled them up. The fate of the men is not known, but they are probably not dead, as the Filipinos have treated their prisoners fairly well.

BURGLAR GOT A THOUSAND.

A telegram from Amelia Court House today says: "A bold thief entered the bed-room of W. T. Robertson, a merchant at Amelia Courthouse, last night, and stole over one thousand dollars in cash and about two hundred and fifty dollars in checks. Mr. Robertson took the money out of his store last night up to his bed-room and laid it in his bureau drawer, and when he woke up this morning it was gone. The thief took his pistol, which Mr. Robertson laid by him on retiring for his protection. There were three people in the room in bed at the time."

THE EPISCOPAL COUNCIL.

The seventh annual Episcopal Council of the Southern Virginia Diocese will meet at the Church of the Epiphany, in Danville, on the 8th of June, and will consume three days in the transaction of its business. Bishop Alfred Magill Randolph, of Norfolk, will preside, and eighty ministers, six of whom are colored men, will be in attendance. About the same number of laymen will be on hand as delegates, and these, with probably a dozen visitors from other jurisdictions, will make the council a body of about 175 men.

The annual convention of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held at the same time. This body will be composed of about fifty delegates. The Woman's Missionary Society, which, like the auxiliary, works under the supervision and watch-care of the council, will also hold a meeting, either on the 8th or 9th.

The last meeting of the old Diocese of Virginia was held in Danville in 1892. At that session the diocese was divided into two—Northern Virginia and Southern Virginia. This will be the first time the council of Southern Virginia has met in Danville.

Bishop Randolph, who will preside, is very popular in Danville, and whenever he preaches there crowds of all denominations flock to hear him.

Colonel Jno. Bell Bigger spent a somewhat easier night, and his condition was a shade better to-day.

PETERSBURG.

The Heavy Shipment of Lumber Continues.

The Contract For Paving Sycamore Street—Police Statistics For May—Matrimonial—New Electric Railway—Death of Mrs. Brown.

Petersburg, Va., June 2.—The city's expenditures during last month amounted to $16,232.28. The wharfage receipts in May were $318.64.

Vast quantities of lumber from the mills in Dinwiddie county, on the line of the Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina railroad, are being shipped to the North through this city, and the orders for this lumber far exceed the facilities for shipment.

STREET PAVING.
Mr. John Jacoby, of Washington, D. C., who has been awarded the contract for paving Sycamore street, is here to-day to sign his contract and give bond for the work. As soon as this is done he will be ready to begin the work—that is, as soon as the Street Committee are in readiness for him. He has a cargo of 1,500 barrels of cement now on the way to Petersburg, to be used in the paving. Mr. Gasser, of Richmond, who has the contract for the granite-block paving, is also here to sign the contract and give bond.

POLICE ARRESTS.

The report of Chief of Police Ragland shows that during the month of May the police made 169 arrests. The offences were classified as follows: Assault and battery, 10; felony, 2; larceny, 11; lunacy, 10; misdemeanor, 13; peace warrants, 2; suspicion, 10; vagrancy, 2; violation of city ordinances, 169.

MATRIMONIAL.

Next Tuesday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Miss Marion Dodson and Mr. A. Sydney Weisiger will be united in marriage. The bride-elect is one of Petersburg's most charming young ladies. The prospective groom is a former resident of this place, who now holds the position of general freight and passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Western Railway Company, with headquarters at Harrisonburg.

STREET ELECTRIC RAILWAY.
The street electric railway company began yesterday morning to take down the wires, both trolley and span, of the old street electric railway. The company is still distributing its stils and poles on the streets through which the railway is to run.

Mr. Pecham Hart, of this city, has accepted a position with the railway company as bookkeeper.

DEATH.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, wife of Mr. Benjamin F. Brown, proprietor of the Albemarle Hotel, in this city, died this morning, after an illness of a few days. Deceased was the daughter of the late Robert Taylor, for many years a citizen of Williamsburg, and leaves six children. She was a lady of exalted character and leaves a host of friends throughout the State.

BOARD OF FISHERIES.

MEETING HELD THURSDAY ON THE EASTERN SHORE.

Onancock, Va., June 2.—The State Board of Fisheries, with Governor Tyler present, met at Wachapreague yesterday. Much interest was shown by the large crowd of oystermen and others present. In the public discussion of matters pertaining to the oyster industry by the oystermen and others, the oyster interest of the Atlantic side of the two Eastern Shore counties was the principal subject. Up to the present there has been no oyster police on that side of Accomac, and depredations by non-residents and violations of law have been of daily occurrence. The board provided to-day for the immediate employment of an ample police force of two boats to patrol these waters—one boat for Accomac, commanded by Captain A. E. Richardson, the other for Southampton, commanded by Captain Smith.

The board may recommend to the coming Legislature the requirement of the payment of a license for the privilege of taking claims of about the same amount that is now required for the oystermen.

Governor Tyler, his two sons, and his private secretary, Mr. Owen, are the guests of Senator LeCato. The Governor, in response to pressure, delivered an address in the afternoon that places him well up in the list of Virginia orators. Senator Keegel made a strong, practical address, and Mr. Pettit, another member of the board, gave an interesting talk.

The Governor and party will go drum fishing to-morrow, with Senator LeCato on his yacht. The board may visit other centers of the oyster business before they leave the Shore.

TOWN OF SUFFOLK

Attempted Assault on Judge R. H. Rawles While Leaving Court.

A Miniature Cyclone Strikes Holy Neck—A Delightful Wedding Reception—Efforts to Organize a New Military Company—Personal.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Suffolk, Va., June 2.—Having just won as senior counsel a long and bitterly contested case in Nansemond Circuit Court this afternoon, an attempt was made to assault Judge R. H. Rawles as he stepped from the courtroom shortly after 7 o'clock. The act was the result of statements made by Judge Rawles in argument, which statements were construed by Captain George Hall, of Norfolk, as derogatory to himself.

When Judge Rawles left the courthouse Captain Hall asked to see him, saying he had been insulted.

HOT WORDS PASSED.
Captain Hall had a big cane and Judge Rawles a pocket-knife. Messrs. W. C. Harrell and S. H. Simmons stepped between them, and prevented further trouble. The gentlemen were kept apart by friends, and were soon driven from the scene in carriages.

SAUNDERS WINS SUIT.
The offence was taken by Captain Hall at remarks made by Judge Rawles in an argument for the plaintiff in the Saunders-Ellis case. Captain Hall was a witness for the defendant.

This was the end of a long and warmly fought case. The first three trials in County Court resulted in drawn verdicts. The suit this time had been in progress three days.

IT DIDN'T TAKE LONG.
When argument was finished the jury retired and reached a verdict in ten minutes. Most of the jurors had decided their vote before they left the box. Colonel R. S. Boykin was chosen foreman. The verdict was for $53.73, with interest from March, 1897. But the real fight was to decide ownership of the wharf at Exit. The court costs, not to mention lawyers' fees, are many times greater than the amount of the verdict. Saunders had to pay costs in County Court.

MOVED FOR NEW TRIAL.

Judge Brooke moved to have the verdict set aside. Argument on the motion will come early next week.

The few remaining witnesses were finished with this morning, and then instructions were argued. Judge Rawles opened for the plaintiff in an hour and ten minutes. After dinner Lawyer James L. McLennan argued for the defense in forty-five minutes. Judge Brooke spoke for about eighty-five minutes and Attorney W. S. Holland closed with the longest speech of all. The lawyers had some lively exchanges of ridicule and satire, but their tempers were kept under control.

HOLY NECK CYCLONE.

A cyclone, limited in area, but more forceful than any wind storm ever heard of in that section, descended last night near Holy Neck Church, five miles from Holland, Nansemond county.

The cyclone swept everything clean for about half a mile. The devastated territory was narrow. Where the wind attained its greatest violence the trees were moved from the earth like chaff, and fences were torn away down to the ground. Large forces of employees were put to work repairing the fences to keep out stock. Most of the crops were too small to be much affected by the wind. Trees in some cases were carried many feet. The country road was totally obstructed.

MR. PARKER'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Richard Parker, who dropped dead last night, will take place at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning from the residence. It will be conducted by Revs. W. H. Staley, D. D., and J. P. Love. The burial will be made in an old family cemetery near Windsor.

WEDDING RECEPTION.

A delightful reception was to-night tendered Mrs. and Mr. Albert Ward Daughtrey by the groom's father, Mr. D. P. Daughtrey. Mr. Daughtrey was married in Newport News to Miss Maud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Butler. The ceremony was performed at No. 1046 Twenty-ninth street by Rev. T. J. Mackay, pastor of the Second Baptist Church. There were no attendants and only near friends present. The bride was attired in a traveling suit. The groom is well known here.

TRYING TO ORGANIZE.

Another meeting looking to the organization here of a military company was held to-night in Armory Hall. There were only a few persons present—not enough to take any decisive step. It is reported that a colored military company is in process of formation.

FINGER CUT OFF.

Sidney Gay, an employee on the farm of Mr. C. T. Milton, of Everett's, had a finger cut off in a corn planter the other day. It was smooth cut. Dr. G. W. Butts was called to fix it.

SOME PEOPLE'S TRAVELS.
Miss Ethel Carr, of Mt. Pleasant, Texas, is in Suffolk at the guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. R. Brothers. Miss Carr has just come from Baltimore, where she attended college.

Miss Lullie Barham, of Newsum, Va., who had been Miss Katie Holladay's guest, at Bank and Holladay

ATTENTION, LUMBER DEALERS!

I have for sale about 1,000,000 feet of standing timber on my farm, between Everett's and Chuckatuck. Would sell both land and timber, or either. This timber is in a mile of Nansemond river, and could be cut in piling or would be good location for a mill, as there are other lots of timber adjacent. For further information apply to J. J. JOHNSON, Myrtle, Va. 11-25-99

The body of Captain C. P. Holgee, master of the steam launch Leona, who was knocked overboard from his vessel last Sunday night by a hawser attached to the barge Belle of Oregon, was recovered yesterday morning at 4 o'clock between Chesapeake and Ohio piers 4 and 5. The body was brought in and tied to the pier by one of the Chesapeake and Ohio watchmen. The coroner's inquest showed the death was due to accidental drowning. The body was brought out at the inquest, however, that the barge displayed no light Sunday night when the accident occurred.
